

Nuclear Power	Emergency Services/Health & Safety
U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) www.nrc.gov or blog at http://public-blog.nrc-gateway.gov. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Responsible for regulating domestic activities related to radiation protection and nuclear safety for nuclear facilities and for promoting the common defense and security related to uses of radioactive materials. The NRC is not providing information on the status of Japan's nuclear power plants, only providing information on NRC actions. 	California Department of Public Health (CDPH) www.cdph.ca.gov <ul style="list-style-type: none"> The California Department of Public Health is dedicated to optimizing the health and well-being of the people in California. A public health information line to address public health concerns related to the nuclear emergency in Japan: 916-341-3947
NEI — Nuclear Energy Institute www.nei.org <ul style="list-style-type: none"> NEI is the U.S. policy organization for the nuclear technologies industry. Offering news about status at Japanese plants and technical expertise on nuclear power in Japan and the U.S. 	California Emergency Management Agency www.oes.ca.gov <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Cal EMA is responsible for the coordination of overall state agency response to major disasters in support of local government. The Agency is responsible for assuring the state's readiness to respond to and recover from all hazards – natural, man-made, war-caused emergencies and disasters – and for assisting local governments in their emergency preparedness, response, recovery, and hazard mitigation efforts.
Nuclear and Industrial Safety Agency www.nisa.meti.go.jp/english/ <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Japanese governmental agency provides status updates and emergency response information 	U.S. Department of Health and Human Resources www.hhs.gov/response/2011tsunami/index.html <ul style="list-style-type: none"> HHS provides public health and medical personnel and medical equipment to augment state and local response to assist with long-term recovery efforts. At the request of another nation, HHS may provide disaster response support internationally.
International Atomic Energy Agency www.iaea.org and www.iaea.org/press <ul style="list-style-type: none"> The IAEA is the world's center of cooperation in the nuclear field. The Agency works with its member states and partners worldwide to promote safe, secure and peaceful nuclear technologies. 	Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) www.bt.cdc.gov/radiation/ki.asp <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Information on radiation exposure and the use of Potassium Iodide
	FEMA www.fema.gov <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Emergency response to U.S. territories damaged in tsunami
	U.S. Department of State <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Established a call center for Americans seeking information about family members in Japan: 1-888-407-4747.
	AID AGENCY
	USAID www.usaid.gov <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Federal government agency primarily responsible for providing assistance to countries recovering from disasters. Website lists how individuals can give.
	Overseas Security Advisory Council (OSAC) - Department of State https://www.osac.gov Office of Intelligence and Analysis - Department of Homeland Security http://www.dhs.gov